

CAL STATE FULLERTON

California State University, Fullerton (Cal State Fullerton) is a nationally renowned public university in Southern California. Cal State Fullerton offers educational opportunities across diverse fields of study, giving its students the tools they need to participate in a global society.

PROGRAMS

- 57 undergraduate degree programs
- 52 graduate degree programs
- Numerous certificate and credential programs

RANKINGS & HONORS

- One of the “Most Innovative Schools” in the United States — U.S. News and World Report (August 2018)
- One of the most affordable “Top Public Universities” in the United States — U.S. News and World Report (August 2018)
- Ranked first in California and second in the nation among top colleges and universities awarding degrees to Hispanics — Hispanic Outlook in Higher Education (August 2017)
- Ranked fifth in the nation for bachelor’s degrees awarded to underrepresented students — Diverse: Issues in Higher Education (August 2017)
- Home to Mihaylo College of Business and Economics, the largest AACSB (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business)-accredited business college in California

STUDENTS & COMMUNITY

- About 40,000 students total
- More than 3,000 international students from 86 different countries
- More than 265,000 alumni
- More than 4,000 faculty and staff
- More than 350 clubs and organizations, including dozens of international and cultural clubs

CAMPUS & LOCATION

- 241-acre (97-hectare) campus in Orange County, California, a thriving economic region home to some of the world’s most prominent multinational corporations
- On-campus centers for recreation, sport and the performing arts
- On-campus cafes and restaurants
- On-campus housing
- On-campus Student Health and Counseling Center
- Seven miles (11 kilometers) from Disneyland
- 20 miles (32 kilometers) from nearby beaches
- 25 miles (40 kilometers) from downtown Los Angeles

Questions?

If you have any questions about California State University, Fullerton, please email us at EIPconnect@fullerton.edu or call (657) 278-2611.

